Purpose

This video conference will be a structured forum for communities who are replicating and adapting model prevention programs to engage in directed exchange with each other and a select group of model program developers about key issues that arise while implementing and attempting to sustain model prevention programs